

Jefferson Amateur Radio Club

Code of Conduct

As a member in good standing of the Jefferson Amateur Radio Club

I will:

- Listen to and respect opinions of others and support majority decisions.
- Report activities and/or actions that could have adverse effects on the JARC to the proper levels of authority.
- Recognize that my responsibility is to help elected managers of the club while at the same time recognizing that I am not a manager.
- Always work to learn more about our hobby and strive to be a better operator and to help others do the same.
- Abstain from voting or commentating about issues where I have a conflict of interest.
- Perform all activities in the club in a safe manner and speak up when I think that an activity is being performed in an unsafe manner.
- Act as an ambassador when greeting visitors to the club or while representing the club at public events.

I will not:

- Openly criticize fellow members in or out of meetings.
- Use the JARC for my personal advantage.
- Discuss confidential proceedings with those who do not have a need to know.
- Interfere with the performance of the duties of the Elected Officials or undermine their authority with the membership.
